RIMA Welcomes New Platinum Level Members

The Reflective Insulation Manufacturers Association (RIMA) recently added a new level of membership called the Platinum Level which is given to a company that is committed to the highest standards of ethics and professionalism and strives to actively contribute to the success and growth of the reflective insulation and radiant barrier industry. It is through the efforts of these companies that RIMA is able to further research and growth on behalf of the industry; and because of this, they are worthy of this special designation.

Platinum Members are prominently featured on the RIMA website at www.rima.net in our "Find A Member" section and are designated by this special logo:
